

This privacy policy sets out how Friends of Highfield Country Park uses and protects any information that you give Friends of Highfield Country Park when you use this website.

Friends of Highfield Country Park is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. Should we ask you to provide certain information by which you can be identified when using this website, then you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement.

Friends of Highfield Country Park may change this policy from time to time by updating this page. You should check this page from time to time to ensure that you are happy with any changes. This policy is effective from 21/05/2018 and last updated 21/05/2018.

What we collect

We may collect the following information:

- name
- contact information including email address and phone number
- demographic information such as postcode, preferences and interests

What we do with the information we gather

We require this information to keep in touch with volunteers and supporters of the park.

- We may periodically send emails about events and volunteering opportunities to help on Highfield Country Park and surrounding areas.
- We may phone you to chat about volunteering if you have specific skills or interests.

Security

We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure, we have put in place procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

We do not sell your data to third parties.

You may request details of personal information which we hold about you under the Data Protection Act 1998.